

The Bamboo Flooring Company was established in 2004 to offer an alternative to traditional wood floors. As the name suggests, they specialise in flooring made from bamboo, a grass which is one of the hardest natural materials available.

Bamboo is an excellent alternative to hard wood flooring, with a higher fibre rating than any hard wood. This gives the floors exceptional hard-wearing qualities, so it is ideal for surfaces which are going to be well-used.

The Bamboo Flooring Company has 11 different styles of bamboo flooring available, to compliment any interior design or taste, all at competitive prices. They keep an extensive amount of flooring in stock to make sure that they can supply any order quickly and efficiently.

Customers have a choice of solid, engineered or strand woven bamboo flooring, with many options suitable to be used in conjunction with underfloor heating. All offer a stable and long-lasting product.

The solid floors are comprised of strips of bamboo glued together; the engineered flooring consists of a base layer of plywood with a bamboo layer on top; and the strand woven flooring is manufactured by pulling apart the fibres and then compressing them with resin to form a plank.

The bamboo flooring is imported directly from a factory in China, so the Bamboo Flooring Company can offer a better price and service to its customers choosing a bamboo floor in the UK.

The Bamboo Flooring Company takes their environmental responsibilities seriously, and have evaluated every aspect of their operation to make sure it is as environmentally friendly as possible. Bamboo is a sustainable flooring material which they source responsibly. At the same time the company ensures that they comply with all UK and global environmental legislation and regulatory controls.
