

Boen is an international company based in Norway. Their products are sold in more than 50 countries across four continents, with production sites in Russia, Lithuania and Switzerland. They use their worldwide presence for inspiration and the development of new and innovative flooring solutions.

Boen describe the floor as the biggest piece of furniture in the home, and believe that it should reflect your style and personality. It is why they offer a wide range of flooring options to suit all tastes and spaces, all with a commitment to quality and durability.

Boen divide their collection into four styles – Classic Elegance, Urban Contrast, Modern Rustic and Pure Nordic. It gives customers a good starting point to decide where to focus their attention before narrowing their choice down by colour, size and appearance.

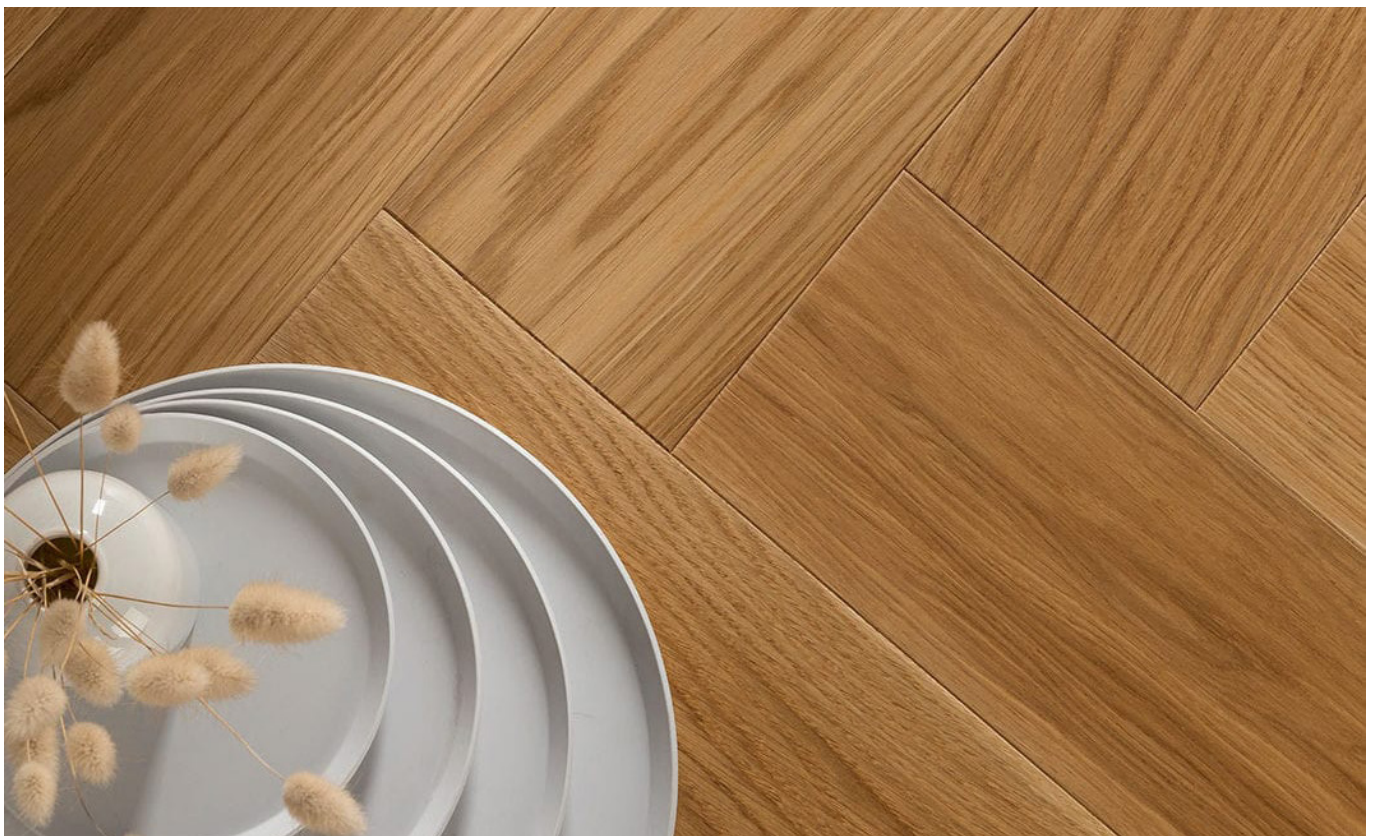

As a company, Boen continuously invest in technology and product development. It has led to them becoming one of Europe's largest and most modern producers of hardwood flooring and increasing their market share throughout the world.

Their commitment to being at the forefront of the flooring industry is demonstrated with their new Live Pure product. It is a completely new surface finish that celebrates the trend for natural materials. It gives floors an untreated and completely natural look, with the appearance of freshly sawn wood in its natural state. However, it also provides extreme resistance against life's knocks and spills.

Boen is known for a long and proud tradition of craftsmanship, based on respect for nature's resources. It is the user of their products that they are focused on, and their values include a commitment to inspire and guide their consumers.

They take their environmental responsibility seriously and are FSC and Rainforest Alliance certified so you can enjoy your wooden floor knowing that it will last you a lifetime without impacting on the planet.
