

TED TODD

The Ted Todd story began way back in 1993. Ted Todd were a fledgling start-up beginning a journey that would eventually transform them into the UK's leading wood floor company.

For over two decades, curiosity and adventure have driven their story. Beginning life in the North West of England, Ted Todd was inspired by the industrial heritage right on their doorstep. They spent their days exploring old mills and salvaging wood flooring. Back in the garage, they learnt how to faithfully restore these beautiful hardwood floors to their former glory. It was the beginning of something special. Ted Todds newest collection is all about individuality and urban living. It captures the feel of salvaged treasure and offbeat finds to create a look that's a bit distressed but always unique.

There's nothing random about the quality and delivery though. Because it's made in the UK, we can guarantee that if you choose from the Ted Todd range, we can deliver and install it in a sensible time frame.

While it may have a worn look, it's air-dried lacquered finish ensures that it is extremely durable with no colour fading - all with all the eco-credentials you would expect from a cutting edge company.
